MED13L is a rare syndrome that is characterized by intellectual disability, speech and language impairment, motor developmental delay with muscular hypotonia and behavioral difficulties. Dylan Sexton (9) and Logan Sexton (7) are brothers from Barrington NJ diagnosed with MED13L. The Sexton family established the MED13L Foundation 501c3 nonprofit and need your help to spread awareness and support the foundation’s initiatives. Together we can help other children with this disorder get the diagnosis their families have been searching for!!
